

VOTER PROTECTION DIRECTOR

The Iowa Democratic Party is hiring a Voter Protection Director for the 2018 campaign cycle.

2018 will be the first election year under a new Voter ID law that also changed the early voting process in Iowa. We are seeking a strong communicator and organizer who can help navigate the law, educate our partners and voters, and protect our votes.

The Voter Protection Director is responsible for developing and implementing a statewide voter protection and education plan.

Some duties of the Voter Protection Director may include recruiting and managing Voter Protection volunteers; educating staff, volunteers, and voters; communicating with local election administrators; assisting in the development of early vote strategy; planning for and overseeing poll observer program; planning for and overseeing voter protection boiler room.

The ideal candidate is an excellent communicator and organizer who has election experience in a state with a Voter ID law.

Required skills include:

- Past experience on campaign Voter Protection team highly preferred
- Candidates with organizing, political and legal experience are sought
- Excellent written and oral communication skills
- Excellent research skills
- Excellent time management skills
- Experience organizing and managing volunteers
- Experience with tight deadlines, long hours, and a passion for organizing people around candidates and ideas
- The ability to think creatively and find solutions quickly
- The ability to work well and remain calm under pressure

The Iowa Democratic Party provides a competitive salary and benefits package.
